

Welcome to the Bézier Game, a competitive point-plotting game in which you must balance accuracy and speed!

Here's how to play:

1. Project upon a whiteboard.
2. Line up two teams, single file, on either side of the board.
3. Summon a contestant from each team. Advance the slide.
4. The first person who's confident they've finished should shout "Done!", at which point both players put down their plotting instruments.
5. Reveal the answers on the next slide. If the solution is not perfect, go back to the previous slide, resume play, and repeat until there's a winner.
6. Tally the score on the top-right of each side.
7. Play until the score of your choice.
